Why the North

The North of England has changed radically over the past two decades. The evidence is clear to see, whether the rise of Leeds as a professional services base, the media powerhouse at Salford Quays, Liverpool's thriving docks, the innovation labs of Newcastle, and off-shore energy expertise in Hull.

Mega projects are now coming forward to further turbocharge the economy for the next 20 years from York Central and South Bank in Leeds to Mayfield in Manchester and Wirral Waters to the west.

An increasingly powerful and cohesive collection of Metro Mayors, civic leaders, and businesses is driving ever-greater investment to help close the national productivity gap and deliver on the North's potential - not only for its residents but for the benefit of the whole UK.

Meeting the economic potential of the North in the future will depend on improved connectivity, along with maximising devolution and taking advantage of fiscal instruments such as freeports and investment zones. The North of England benefits from enhanced international acclaim due to its top-rated universities, along with world-famous cultural and sporting assets. These range from Manchester's Aviva Studios to Newcastle's The Glasshouse, as well as football clubs and music venues.

Leaders from across the political divide and all sectors of commerce must come together to raise the call for investment in transport, telecoms, and science research to accelerate growth.

Place North's extensive reach and influence within the property sector and across the built environment has been invaluable to us, and we're now benefitting from being a supporter of Place North's growth into the North East and Yorkshire. Their platform has provided room to showcase our expertise and services to a highly targeted audience of decision-makers.

Ultimately, as a result of our partnership, we've been able to increase brand awareness, build relationships, and generate new business.

In addition to the tangible benefits, we've also enjoyed the collaborative relationship we've built with the Place North team — Dino, Kirsty, Paul and all members of the editorial and events teams. What would we do without you?

Everything taken care of. That's the Place Difference.

The Place team sets a high bar. It's why we partnered with Place North and commissioned a series of filmed roundtables. The team pulled together the perfect group of professionals, evidenced by the obvious chemistry during the conversation, the format of the event was superbly organised, and the final production perfectly met our original brief.

The biggest compliment I can give is that the team make those things that are often so challenging behind the scenes but look easy on the surface, actually really easy.'

We're confident that our partnership with Place North will continue to be a success in the years to come.'

REGENERATION BRAINERY

Championing a diverse and more modern built environment has always been a focus for Place North. We are proud to partner with Regeneration Brainers who accelerate change to make our industry more representative of the world in which it operates.

Regeneration Brainers is a not-for-profit organisation that addresses both the skills gap and the need for diversity in the property industry by working with young people from under-represented backgrounds to encourage them to pursue careers in the built environment. At Place North, our mission is to champion the property industry by providing reliable news coverage and supportive and inclusive events.

We celebrate growing commitments to equality, inclusivity, and diversity within the built environment. We seek to foster supportive communities at our events, where voices with different perspectives, backgrounds, and ideas are heard in a respectful environment. We also recognise the crucial role the built environment plays in combating climate change.

We strive to empower and encourage those who are making a difference in the sustainability realm by amplifying their stories. Learning from each other is a key part of the Place experience. Together, we will champion the industry, celebrate its achievements, and push for continual improvement.
